Canadian by birth, William grew up in Montreal and New York before training at the Royal Academy of Dramatic Art in London. Although early on, working extensively on both sides of the Atlantic as an “English” actor in theatre, William is mostly known as an “American” actor in film and TV. However, as a member of the BBC Radio Drama Company, he has done literally hundreds of radio plays, audio books and readings, to the extent that he is teased as being the “American voice of the BBC”.

He is probably best known for his leading roles as “Lieutenant Gorman” in James Cameron’s ALIENS, “Kyle” in the cult hit HELLRaiser II, XXX with Vin Diesel and THE SAINT with Val Kilmer. William is about to appear with Woody Harrelson and Kristin Scott Thomas in THE WALKER by Paul Schrader. He has also recently starred in TRADE ROUTES, the political thriller by James X. Loftus. TRADE ROUTES last month won two awards at The Method Fest independent film festival in Los Angeles (Best Foreign Film, Best Director and nominated for Best Ensemble Cast, and Best Film). He has also recently starred in the highly acclaimed 9/11: THE TWIN TOWERS screened in the US and UK.

With an English wife and two children, William mostly lives in London.
